- 4.2. The learning methods selected will be based on:
- Being realistic and focusing on what is most important, recognising that remote learning can be more difficult for many pupils and providing appropriate support.
 - Allowing flexibility in the completion of activities, understanding that families may have more than one child sharing home resources and that workspaces may be shared with multiple family members, including by designing activities that are accessible for all pupils, including those working offline.
 - Ensuring remote education practices are inclusive including by tailoring the remote curriculum for pupils with SEND
- 4.3. We will use a range of delivery methods including:
- Directed online learning - Sign-posting to online learning resources
 - Hard copy learning – Provision of hardcopy resources to complete offline

Setting work

• Teachers will provide learning for their current class. The amount of work they need to provide for a child isolating is daily Maths and English lessons plus links to foundation subjects each week, depending on their cycle. This will change in the case of a local/national lockdown, where a full curriculum will be taught from home. Planning should mimic that done in school, but adapted when needed to make it accessible at home.

Daily phonics lessons will be planned for EYFS and KS1. A weekly overview will be shared at the start of each week.

- Teachers will use resources provide by White Rose Maths, Phonics Play and BBC Bitesize, as well as other resources identified by school curriculum leaders to support remote learning (see appendix). This will be detailed on the weekly overview.
- Worksheets should not be shared prior to them being used in school so that children haven't already completed these prior to the lesson. Teachers will upload plans on Class Dojo and/or Teams. The plans may include worksheets which may be printed at home but considerations will be made for those who do not have access to a printer.

Providing feedback on work

Pupils will submit work on Class Dojo Portfolios and/or Microsoft Teams - assignments. All work submissions requested by the Teacher will be acknowledged by the class teacher. Feedback will be given for these submissions on an individual basis and encourage growth and progression. Feedback will be age appropriate.

Live lessons

In the event of a local or national lockdown, teachers will teach some live lessons each day. These will be recorded for those that are unable to make the live lesson. Teachers will teach the following live lessons as a minimum –

- Daily phonics – EYFS and KS1
- Literacy – All teachers
- Mathematics – All teachers but other online videos can be used to supplement this

Keeping in touch with pupils who aren't in school and their parents

In the case of a national or local lockdown, Teachers will call pupils/parents if regular contact is not being made via Class Dojo/Teams. Teachers will keep a record of work submitted daily and any concerns should be recorded and Head teacher alerted on a weekly basis. Weekly wellbeing videos will be submitted by the children and any concerns raised by the video contents or lack of submission should be passed onto the SLT.

If there has been no communication from either a parent or child by day 3 of lockdown/self-isolation period starting, the teacher (or teaching assistant) will call parents/pupils on day 4. This will be passed on to SLT when there is no response.

Vulnerable pupils will be called weekly - PP/EHCP/identified pupils, this will be done by SENCO/DSL/family support worker. Messages received from parents and pupils are to be checked between 8.30am and 4.30pm, Mon- Fri. Teachers should try respond to pupil/parent emails within 2 working days.

12.9 Teaching assistants

When assisting with remote learning, teaching assistants must be available between their contracted working hours. If they're unable to work for any reason during this time, for example due to sickness or caring for a dependent, they should report this using the normal absence procedure.

When assisting with remote learning, teaching assistants are responsible for:

Teaching assistants may be asked to deliver live sessions to a small group of children who are isolating at home. This will be after observing the input by the classroom teacher.

We believe parents can most effectively facilitate and participate in their children's remote learning by working in partnership with the school and staff.

As part of this partnership, parents are asked to support their child in adhering to the contents of the Pupil Code of Conduct: Remote Learning Addendum at all times during periods of remote learning.

We encourage parents to communicate any issues with remote learning, safeguarding, pupil welfare, wellbeing or data protection to an appropriate member of school staff as soon as possible.
